Salaams, hope Ramadhan has been going well. We have been busy working with children in nursery. Before Ramadhan we have planned activities according to the topics, 'All About me', transport, and during Ramadhan we have done lots of related activities such as making chocolate dates, making Ramadhan cards and I hope the Ramadhan advent calendars have been popular!

We are breaking up for the festive season on Friday 29/03/24. We will be back Monday 15/04/24. We will have an Eid Celebration in nursery on Wednesday 17th of April inshaAllah. Children are more than welcome to come in their Eid clothes. If they can continue to wear sensible footwear and clothes that they can easily move about in, we have planned lots of fun party games! We will have a list of snack items and would be grateful for any contributions.

Coming up

- ✓ We are planning a day of the week to go to the library with the children. Once risk assessments are done we will send a permission slip out, please watch out for this
- ✓ At the moment, we are completing observations on paperbased system. We are looking to convert this to an electronic system soon, so you can see what your child has been doing electronically. Watch this space

This half term we have completed initial assessments for the children who have joined our setting and established routines. If you have not had a settling in meeting, we will arrange one for after Easter.

We will be sharing more creative activities we have completed in the nursery each half term.

Hope all our families have a fantastic Eid. We look forward to seeing you on Monday 15th of April!
